

Chad Tagtow

Chad Tagtow is the Senior Vice President and Chief Innovation Officer for Citizens Bank and Trust in Polk County, Florida. His areas of responsibility include operations, risk management, technology and innovation. He has been a member of senior management with Citizens Bank and Trust since 2004. He currently teaches at the Graduate School of Banking at LSU, and at The Southeastern School of Banking in Tennessee. Chad serves on multiple non-profit boards, and is a graduate of Leadership Winter Haven class 34, and Leadership Polk class 10.

Prior to joining Citizens Bank and Trust, Chad worked for Raytheon NCS on multiple government projects in the areas of: Information assurance architectural design, risk management, security testing and evaluation, and security certification and accreditation. He began his career in the information security field developing and implementing network security policy for Boeing Aerospace at Kennedy Space Center in the late 1990's.

Chad holds a Bachelor of Science degree in Computer Engineering from the University of Central Florida. He graduated from the Graduate School of Banking at LSU in 2009. He is an (ISC)2 Certified Information Systems Security Professional (CISSP) since 2002.