P.1. Comments.

Minutes: Elisa Moreno said thanks to the action of Code Enforcement they were able to have peace for three months. She said the noise has continued and she discussed the vehicles and the speakers from the company Chikis Sound. She said the noise can be started anytime and when they call the police the people insist that they can make the noise. She said the business owners are posting videos to social media mocking them. She said more than 30 people are affected in more than nine homes. She asked for help. She said it is not fair that they are going through this in their homes.

Commissioner Braswell asked how can we shut this down. He said the windows in his truck vibrate when he drives by. He asked if there is something we can do.

Code Enforcement Director Autumn Fenton said they have worked several cases on this. She said they will have to work more closely with the Sheriff's office. She said under the noise ordinance it will render daily fines. She said when the Sheriff's office responds they are under the impression that if the business is there it is allowable per the Land Development Code. She said we will have to have a better discussion. She said she will follow up and have a meeting.

Chair Wilson said he will speak to the sheriff.

Ms. Moreno said they knew the three months were over from the violations and they are playing the music now.

County Attorney Randy Mink said the fines are at the state maximum of $15,000.

Suzanne Liseo said she has been working with James Abercrombie. She said he has asked for the contracts for Hunt Fountain Park. She said with what he has been provided she cannot find the signed contracts. She said there is no discretion where the fence is going. She said she has about 2,000 pages and asked for someone to sit with her and go over it with her.

Chair Wilson said everything that has been requested has been given out and it is public records.

County Manager Bill Beasley said they will reach out and set a meeting and they will be happy to explain what they have. He said we have annual contracts for parks.

Ms. Liseo asked about the passing zone in Creeks Crossing Drive. She said several cars have hit the wall.

James Abercrombie said they are crazy. He said he was at the Agenda Briefing and he could not speak. He said the citizens have nothing to do with what they approve. He said the contract is hidden from the citizens. He asked what they did with the fence. He said it is our money and we paid for the fence. He said he wants to know who is involved with this.

Commissioner Braswell said when we tore down the Lawrence Crow building we did not sell the concrete that came from it. He said the contractor took care of it. He said that we do not care what the contractor that cleaned up the park did with the fence. He said it is part of the contract and part of the contract process.
